JUL & JANE LARSSON

Volume XLIX

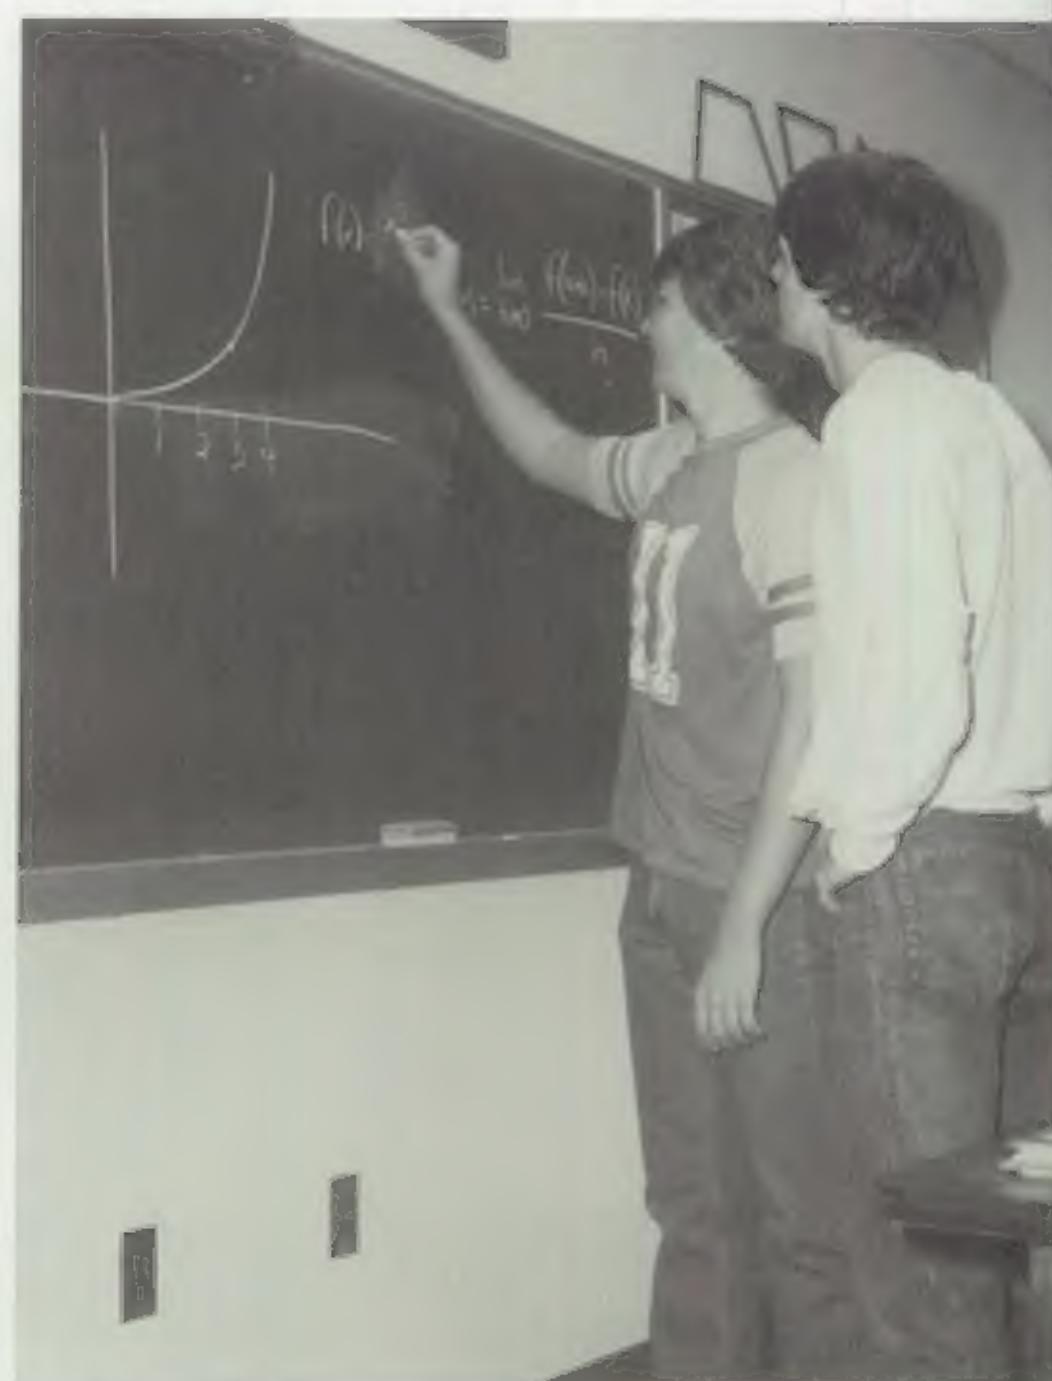

Take time to work—

it is the price of success.

Take time to think—

it is the source of power.

Take time to play—

it is the secret of youth.

Take time to laugh—

it is the music of the soul.

Take time to help and enjoy friends—

WRESTLING
CHEERLEADERS

it is the source of happiness.

Take time to give—

the day is too short to be selfish.

IN MEMORY OF
Daryl Carter
1965-1981

David Sturgis
1920-1982

God hath not promised
Skies always blue
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through
God hath not promised
Sun without rain
Joy without sorrow
Peace without pain
But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor
Light for the way
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy
Undying love

She was an angel sent from heaven,
Always a smile on her face
She was God's greatest gift,
And no one will take her place
She was a very special person
Everyone loved her; Everyone cared
She was an angel sent from heaven,
With all of the love she shared
Remember how she was,
A smile on her face
She went back to heaven,
Her rightful place

Poems written with love
by ZoAnne Olson

We'd only known him a short while,
But we liked him more each day.
He seemed to brighten our lives
In his own very special way.
Remember he is happy
And will never again know sorrow
He went back to God,
And we'll meet him again some tomorrow

Memories of your school life always becomes more valuable with time. I hope that, as students, you may look back upon the 1982-83 school year as one in which you had the opportunity to experience what will become some of those precious memories. To the Class of 83, I extend my congratulations for their contribution to Sherrard High School and my best wishes for future success. To the underclassmen, I hope each school year for you proves to be better than the last

Oklahoma! Corrals New Faces and Talent

Have you ever had a Persian good bye or an Oklahoma hello? Have you ever seen a better musical than Oklahoma!? The answer to these questions is undoubtedly 'No'!"

Oklahoma! is one of the most popular Broadway musicals of all time. For three nights last March, the Sherrard drama and music departments combined their efforts to bring the show to our auditorium stage.

Anyone who saw the Sherrard High School production will know why the title of this musical is always followed by an exclamation point. The actors, singers, and dancers showed why all three nights with their enthusiasm, talent, and dedication giving us such songs as "People Will Say We're in Love," "I Cain't Say No," "Pore Jud is Dead" and the title song. And who could forget the show stopping dance number, "The Farmer and the Cowman"?

Oklahoma! is the story of life in the Oklahoma territory just at the time the territory was getting ready to become a state. Even more, it is a story of young love. The audience watched and wondered if Laurey would choose Curly or the evil Jud (She chose Curly.) Everyone smiled while Ado Annie tried to decide between the naive Will or the worldly Ali Hakim (She decided on Will.) The audience cringed when Gertie laughed, and they cried when Laurey and Curly left on their honeymoon.

In two short years the Sherrard High School musical has become a highlight of the school year. Everyone involved deserves yet another standing ovation for their hard work.

Audience Dies Laughing at Performance of

Arsenic and Old Lace

The score stood even 12 to 12 and as the end of the contest approached everyone in the crowd sat on the edge of their seats waiting to see if a last minute score would break the tie.

No, it was not one of last fall's football games and it was not the score of a St. Louis—Milwaukee World Series baseball game. What was it then? It was the 1982 fall play Arsenic and Old Lace.

On November 19 and 20, audiences watched those kind, sweet aunts Abby and Martha Brewster humorously help a dozen lonely men find final peace and contentment by slipping arsenic into their elderberry wine.

The three Brewster nephews only added to the audience's amusement. There was Teddy, who thought he was Teddy Roosevelt and spent his time burying his aunt's victims in the locks of the Panama Canal that he was digging in the basement. There was Jonathan, himself the murderer of 12 men, who escaped from an Indiana prison for the criminal insane and arrived in Brooklyn with his accomplice Dr. Einstein. And there was sensitive, caring Mortimer, the drama critic whose romance with the lovely Elaine Harper was saved when he discovered that, by a strange quirk of fate, he wasn't really a Brewster after all.

Over the last several years the Sherrard Drama Department has established a top notch reputation for itself. Everyone in the cast, from the stars to the two dead bodies, as well as everyone who served on the crews should be extremely proud of a job well done.

The 1982-83 French Club consisted of "beaucoup de personnes." Because of the helpful participation by all of the members, the Tom-Wat campaign was very successful and helped pay for the Chicago trip in the spring. The other activities this year, the annual Christmas party and the progressive dinner were thoroughly enjoyed by all who joined in the fun.

The logo for First National Bank of the Quad Cities is displayed on a dark, textured background. It features a stylized 'S' shape on the left, with a square containing a profile of a person's head inside it. To the right of the logo, the bank's name is written in large, bold, white, sans-serif capital letters: 'FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF THE QUAD CITIES'. Below the name, there is smaller, less distinct text.

It's time to say good-bye and bring the curtain down
The first major part of our lives is now done.
Some are anxious, some are not, to see what life will bring
I'm only a pawn, but play it right, even a pawn can take a king.

It's going to take some time to realize where I am going
So give me room to ride the opportune wind now blowing.
I am taking the steps which are setting me out on my way
And yet somehow, somehow, a part of me will stay.

Most will be forgotten, except in the memory books
Time will alter memories and also change our looks.
Some of us will age like a bottle of fine French wine
While the rest will discover that Time isn't always so kind.

I used to believe these school days would never be at an end
Yet quickly they've passed, and unto my task, my mind I now must bend.
The hours will appear to move faster—all the days will seem to take flight.
Just one last look, then I'll close the book
For the tassle is now on the right.

—Joe Hudson
